NAZI NIGHT RAIDERS REPELLED BY HEAVY BARRAGE IN LONDON

Southeastern Coast Sharply Attacked by Bombers—Ten Enemy Planes Shot Down During Six-Day Assault—Egypt May Become Great Winter Battleground

LONDON, Oct. 3 (P).—A heavy and growing anti-aircraft barrage rose over Central London early today, beating back at the second German air raid of the night, the eighth since Wednesday morning. High Nazi planes dodged in and out of the cloud banks.

The assault ended a period of uneasy quiet that had followed an earlier attack—the shortest of the war—which began around dinner time and ended after several bombs had fallen.

With nearly all the rest of coastal England under intermittent bombardment from the air during the daylight hours, German strapons bombs were reported to have been the first time on a southeast town. There were several casualties and there was considerable damage.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN

An Air and Home Security Ministry bulletin issued late Wednesday night:

“Early this evening enemy aircraft dropped bombs on a town on the Sussex coast. Houses and shops were damaged and there were some casualties.”

“Ten enemy aircraft in all have been destroyed today, nine of them by our fighters and one by anti-aircraft fire. It has now been established that one enemy bomber was shot down by anti-aircraft shortly before midnight yesterday (Tuesday) and that two enemy aircraft continued on Page 13, Column 3

EVACUATION SUSPENDED

No More Children to Be Sent Overseas Under Government Auspices

LONDON, Oct. 2 (P).—The Government announced tonight suspension of the children's overseas evacuation scheme because of the danger involved in Atlantic crossings at this time of the year.

The scheme has not been abandoned and it is possible that it will be resumed next spring, when thousands more children will be sent to Canada, the United States and Australia, to homes far removed from German bombing planes.

NOT IN GALE SEASON

Loss of the City of Benares and other vessels used to transport children to North America convinced the Government that it could not be responsible for the safety of the children with German submarines lurking in the Atlantic in the gale season, even when the ships are in convoy.

The City of Benares, bound for Canada, was sunk about 600 miles west of Ireland the night of September 17 with a loss of eighty-one children.

The decision to abandon the scheme temporarily will not affect private evacuation of children from this country.

Approximately 7,000 children have gone to Canada from the United Kingdom. Of these, 1,336 were moved under the Government plan. More than 1,000 in addition have gone to the other Dominions. About 2,000 have been moved to the United States by the American Committee.

Astra-Romana's properties were confiscated by Rumania, July 24.

Britons expressed the belief that charges by the pro-Nazi Iron Guard of a British plot to blow up oil tankers en route to Germany and to treat gasoline with chemicals to cripple German warplanes were involved.

SEEKING INFORMATION

They said that the four men who took Miller apparently believe he might be able to supply information on the purported plot.

The Astra-Romana Company, largest oil producer in Rumania, with an output of 1,500,000 tons annually, now is managed by an Iron Guard commissar appointed by the Government.

Throughout the day British Legation investigators searched in vain for the oil man, a forty-year-old Scot.

Miller has been stationed here for fifteen years. He was described by his associates as long having been entrusted with “confidential matters” and “special problems” for the British-operated company.

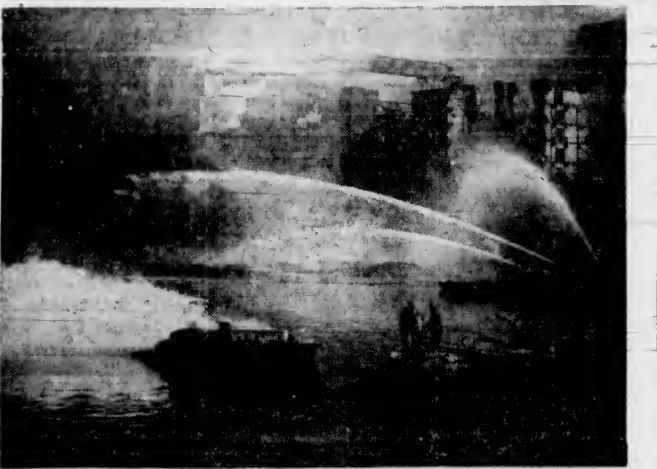

“Of the three most famous British boys' schools, Eton and Harrow are in Southern England; the third, Rugby, is in Central England. Eton is in the vicinity of Windsor Castle.”

(This was the second-famed educational institution bombed by the Nazis. The night of September 23 they attacked Cambridge.)

Fireboats Fight Air Raid Damage

Loggers Active In Stepping Up War Production

United States and Canadian Lumbermen, Opening Big Convention Here, Find Common Bond in Prosecution of War—America's Eventual Entry on Britain's Side Is Prophesied

THE place of the timber industry in the war picture was uppermost in discussions of between 400 and 500 delegates to the Pacific Logging Congress, when the first business session of the thirty-first convention was held here yesterday morning.

Lumbermen of the United States and Canada figuratively joined hands in a common determination to force production to the highest possible point that Britain's war against totalitarianism might be prosecuted to a successful conclusion, and United States delegates indicated that they fully expected their country eventually to enter the war on the side of Great Britain.

“We are not in it yet—we haven't made the decision—but we are preparing for it,” D. S. Denman, of the Crown Zellerbach Corporation, Seattle, said in reply to the Province's welcome, given by Hon. A. Wells Gray at the inaugural breakfast held in the Empress Hotel yesterday.

DEFENCE BOARD VISITS BOSTON

Canadian and American Spokesmen Pleased With Progress Made

BOSTON, Oct. 2 (P).—Having reduced the problem of New England defence “to a minimum,” in the words of its spokesman, the Canadian-American joint defence board continued deliberations tonight well out on that section of the North Atlantic it intends to bar against any possible invasion.

The board sailed by passenger steamship for Nova Scotia after an all-day session at the Boston Navy Yard, at the conclusion of which Major La Guardia, of New York, chairman of the American section, said much progress already had been made and that “actually defending the coast” is no longer “a problem.”

Both American and Canadian spokesmen referred to Japan's recently announced alliance with the Axis powers.

“By reason of what happened in Europe a few days ago,” La Guardia said, “we must expedite plans for West Coast defence.”

Colonel O. M. Biggar, head of the Canadian section, added that the Dominion already had concerned itself with that problem.

Spokesmen for both countries declared the board's primary consideration is defence of the North American continent. Many of the board's recommendations have been adopted and are under way, La Guardia said. Some “actually have been consummated.”

Navy Minister TO MAKE TRIP IN WEST

OTTAWA, Oct. 2 (P).—Navy Minister Macdonald announced today he will leave Ottawa next Monday for an inspection trip throughout Western Canada. He will visit establishments of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve and naval establishments on the Pacific Coast.

BRITISH NOT EVEN UPSET

Air Marshal Bishop Draws Conclusions From Visit To England

LONDON, Oct. 2 (P).—Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, of the Royal Canadian Air Force, today wound up a lightning visit to Britain with the conclusion that Germany's air warfare “won't even upset the British people.”

“I found just what I expected to find,” the man who made a big dent in Germany's air force in the last war told The Canadian Press. “The British people are taking this bombing cheerily and coolly. Nothing upsets them.”

“The other day I was in a district two minutes after it had been bombed,” he continued. “There they were, actually laughing. That was an illustration of the British spirit.”

ARMIES MAGNIFICENT

The flying ace of the last war praised the new generation of Canadian airmen as “magnificent” after visiting the RCAF fighter squadron and the army co-operation squadrons in the United Kingdom.

During his visit, the air marshal met royalty and commoners, and held constant consultations with officials of the Air Ministry regarding the Empire Air Training Scheme. He spent forty-five minutes today talking to the King and reporting on the scheme's astonishing progress.

To show that the British really are bringing down Nazi planes, he is taking back a swastika-marked, bullet-splattered section of one. And to prove to Canadians the integrity of the anti-aircraft barrage guarding London tonight, he is taking back shell fragments collected at random on the streets.

FIND RANGE OFF THE ALEUTIANS

Peaks of 3,000 Feet Are 8,000 Feet Below the Ocean Surface

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 2 (P).—Discovery of a subterranean mountain range 8,000 feet below the ocean surface off the Aleutian Islands was reported today by Lieutenant-Commander Roland D. Horne, who returned here from a charting trip aboard the coast and geologic survey ship, Pioneer.

The officer said the sub-range was 3,000 feet high, but could offer no possible menace to navigation, because of its depth below the surface.

Horne said survey vessels now have completed about 20 per cent of a new study of the Aleutian area started in 1934. Prior to that, the only charts available were those made by Russians in the sixties.

The Pioneer sailed from here for Alaska on April 16 together with the survey ship Guide, which also has returned.

NAMED TO COMMAND OF JERICHO STATION

VANCOUVER, Oct. 2 (P).—Wing Commander Hal Wilson, former instructor at the Aero Club of British Columbia, will take command of the Jericho Beach air station, officials of the station announced today.

Wing commander A. J. Ashton, present commanding officer of the station, will be transferred to Moss Bank, Sask., where he will take charge of the new bombing and gunnery school to be opened under the Empire air training scheme.

BRITISH BOMBERS PASS COAST TO SMITE HOME AT GERMANY'S WAR PLANTS AND STOREHOUSES

From Europe Day by Day—THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1940, by Boulton Co.) LONDON, Oct. 2 (By Cable).—The Royal Air Force keeps up its tremendous series of attacks on Berlin, on Western German towns where there are military targets and on invasion ports along the North Sea and English Channel. Damage has been enormous.

Everywhere tremendous explosions have been seen and heard as oil plants and ammunition trains have gone up in smoke and flames. One terrific explosion in a railway yard at Mannheim is described as the biggest seen by any British raiders so far.

As against this proof of the Royal Air Force prowess, German raids on Britain have decreased in intensity, as it is the huge losses of Göring's much-vaunted air arm had at least begun to tell on it.

“We expected much more severe damage and civilian casualties than we had in fact suffered,” says The Times, “though the enemy has spared nothing in his sustained effort to inflict both. It is now clear that night bombing, apart from widespread personal suffering it causes, has done nothing whatever to improve the Nazis' chances of victory.”

The Times regrets the necessity of attacking French, Belgian and Dutch ports, but emphasizes they are now purely German controlled and manned and used as bases for a projected, but apparently postponed, invasion of Britain.

As for the Italian air force, once so formidable, the paper reports it has lost hundreds of machines without inflicting any important casualties on that small fraction of the Royal Air Force that can be spared to deal with it. The time when a proper lesson is administered to the Italians cannot come too soon. The Times says, as at any moment the German air force, heavily punished and felled over Britain, may try to reinforce and stimulate its disappointed ally and the focus of the battle may then shift from West to East.

“We shall not have achieved complete mastery of the air,” concludes The Times, “until the enemy has been beaten on both fronts. September has seen him well beaten on one of them.”

German troops in Belgium, according to The Times special correspondent, are already sick of war and want to go home to Germany. Some profess little sympathy for the Nazi Government and say if it does not succeed in invading Britain, it cannot win the war. The Belgians are stubbornly pro-British and welcome British air attacks on areas of their own country occupied by the German forces.

Make Survey Flight Over Ocean Isles

NASSAU, Bahamas, Oct. 2 (P).—Military Experts from the United States looking for sites to aid in Western Hemisphere defence, made a 500-mile survey flight today along the string of rugged islands and intricate waterways that form this British colony.

Five of the eleven army and navy officers in the party—headed by Rear-Admiral John W. Greenleaf and Brigadier-General Jacob L. Devereux—flew directly from Miami to Nassau.

U.S. Navy Will Have Fleet of 125 Ships On Atlantic Coast

Newly-Organized Force Will Be in Addition to Fleet in Pacific—Is Working on Plans for Base in Newfoundland

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (P).—The United States Navy, confronted with the new mutual assistance pact signed by Germany, Italy and Japan, plans to establish “a newly-organized force” of more than 125 ships in the Atlantic Ocean, in addition to the present big fleet in the Pacific.

This was announced late today by the navy in the following words: “The Navy Department will establish in the near future a newly-organized force in the Atlantic. This force will become an integral part of the United States fleet and will be designated as the patrol force, United States fleet. Rear Ad-

French Ports on the Channel Given First Rest for a Month

LONDON, Oct. 3 (P).—Royal Air Force raiders, braving a whistling Channel northeaster, crossed into German territory today to renew attacks on the war storehouses of the Reich, and kept Berlin under air raid alarm for an hour and twelve minutes.

For the first night in almost a month they did not attack the so-called “invasion ports” along the German-held coast of France, where they have been blasting systematically at large concentrations, gun emplacements and Nazi invasion preparations.

CHAMBERLAIN LEAVES POST

Is Succeeded by Sir John Anderson as Lord President of Council

LONDON, Oct. 3 (P).—The Ministry of Information announced today that Neville Chamberlain had resigned as Lord President of the Council and that his resignation had been accepted. He will be succeeded by Sir John Anderson, Minister of Home Security.

LONDON, Oct. 2 (P).—It was reported in political circles tonight that the resignation of Neville Chamberlain, seventy-two-year-old Lord President of the Council, from the grounds of ill-health may be announced tomorrow.

The former Prime Minister has been ailing for some months. He was succeeded by Winston Churchill last May.

Mr. Chamberlain's resignation likely would be accompanied by several Government changes. It is believed possible David Lloyd George, who led the nation during the First World War, may return to service in some advisory capacity.

TROOPS POURING INTO INDO-CHINA

British and United States Oil Companies Told to Quit Airfields At Hanoi

HONGKONG, Oct. 3 (P).—The Chinese Central News Agency asserted today 38,000 Japanese troops with sixty tanks already had landed at Haiphong, French Indo-China, and that Japanese forces which entered the colony at Dongkang and Lanoum were marching in the direction of Hanoi, the capital.

Hanoi, French Indo-China, Oct. 2 (P).—American and British oil companies were instructed today to remove their stocks from Hanoi airfield within the next two days to make way for Japanese occupation under the Vichy-Tokyo accord.

The Japanese assumption of “military facilities at three air bases in Tonkin State (Northern Indo-China), moved swiftly and smoothly toward conclusion.

The Canadians were deeply disappointed at not being able to get into actual battle. Brigadier Haldenby said Canada's brigade was “anxious to get at the enemy,” and “orders to retreat were not well received.”

“During our time in France we never saw the enemy on the ground,” he said, “though there were considerable living about in the air.”

It was not immediately clear whether they passed up objectives along the French coast because of the weather or because it is now believed in some quarters the danger of invasion is past, or because there was no occasion for attack this morning.

DARK AND WINDY

Watchers at Dover and other coastal points, expecting to see the nightly flash of exploding bombs and anti-aircraft, saw only a pitch-black sky and heard only the howling of the wind.

A vast new force by R.A.F. bombers into the Reich took place Tuesday night and Wednesday morning. It spread destruction and fire all the way from the Rhine-Ruhr refineries to the power plants of Berlin.

Perhaps the greatest of Tuesday night's British bombings, beginning with the early darkness and continuing past midnight, was aimed at the refineries of Cologne, on the Rhine.

The Air Ministry said “explosions and fires” marked the attacks, and added: “Many vivid bursts were seen.”

PAYS TRIBUTE TO CANADIANS

Troops in England Magnificent—Invaders Would Meet Hot Reception

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Oct. 2 (P).—Any attempted invasion of England will meet with a “hot reception,” Brigadier Eric W. Haldenby, of Toronto, former commander of the 48th Highlanders, declared today as he arrived from Britain.

Brigadier Haldenby, who led the Canadian infantry unit involved in the Canadian Brigade in France last spring, said “the Canadian troops now in England are ‘magnificent.’”

With other officers of the Dominion's overseas units, he arrived at this port today on a ship carrying British children and other refugees to America.

TROOPS WERE IN FRANCE

The brigadier's troops were among those that commanded a train in France after the engine crew had refused to work following the collapse of the French armies. Canadian troops were bound for the front when the French fell. Brigadier Haldenby recounted.

“The Canadians were deeply disappointed at not being able to get into actual battle. Brigadier Haldenby said Canada's brigade was ‘anxious to get at the enemy,’ and ‘orders to retreat were not well received.’”

RUSSIA CALLS UP LABOR RESERVES

Teen-Age Boys to Be Conscripted For Technical Training for Four-Year Periods

MOSCOW, Oct. 3 (P).—Soviet Russia ordered conscription of her labor reserves today, decreeing technical training of 800,000 to 1,000,000 teen-aged boys annually, “all of whom will be required to work at state industrial jobs for four years following their period of instruction.”

The first call-up begins November 10, providing for 350,000 to be mustered into railroad schools and 250,000 into other industrial classes. When placed in jobs, they will be paid at the prevailing rate, and for their four-year stint will be exempt from military and naval service.

Peter Moskatoff was appointed head of the administration of labor reserves to place the programme in operation.

White Flag Gave No Protection in African Incident

Heroism of Naval Officer Prevented Capture of Landing Party of Former French Members of Parliament Before Dakar Battle—Directed Withdrawal in Hail of Fire

WITH THE DE GAULLE DAKAR EXPEDITION, Sept. 29 (Delayed in Transmission) (P).—Heroism of a naval officer-priest, whose white-flagged "Free French" landing party touched off the battle of Dakar, prevented the capture of former French deputies who tried to win West Africa bloodlessly over to General Charles de Gaulle's Anglo-French cause.

He was Captain G. Thierry d'Argenlieu, who stood erect in a small boat under a deadly hail of machine-gun fire, even after being wounded, and directed withdrawal of the landing party, made up of members of the French Parliament serving in De Gaulle's legion.

Although sailors were lining the rails of warships and commercial vessels in Dakar port, no effort was made at first to halt the Free French landing party, which flew its white flag alongside the French Tricolor.

Just as the party reached the dock and prepared to go ashore, however, an automobile drew up on the quay. A young ensign with a drawn revolver and a lieutenant stepped out and refused to let any members except d'Argenlieu land.

The lieutenant shook hands cordially with d'Argenlieu, who asked authorization for his delegation to land. The lieutenant sent for Captain Lorfève, commander of port police, who granted permission for the entire party to come ashore.

When d'Argenlieu declared he was carrying a letter for Governor-General Pierre Boisson of West Africa and the admiral commanding the port, the chief of police telephoned the governor for instructions.

A QUICK ANSWER

The governor's answer came eight minutes later. Its tenor was indicated by Captain Lorfève, who ordered the party to put back to sea at once.

"And if we refuse?" d'Argenlieu demanded.

"I would be obliged to put you under arrest," the captain replied.

He scarcely had finished speaking when an orderly rushed up with a written order for the immediate arrest of the entire party.

d'Argenlieu shouted a quick warning to his officers, then leaped into the boat himself just as it pulled away from the quay.

Meanwhile, the young ensign who had greeted the party with drawn revolver, jumped aboard a small trawler and ordered its machine guns trained on the party.

Once the outer harbor was cleared, d'Argenlieu executed a smart 90-degree left turn and calmly headed for the escort vessel Savorgnan de Brazza, which stood dimly outlined in the fog-blanketed sea.

LOGGERS STEP UP WAR PRODUCTION

450 loggers and 170 "loggersettes" had registered at the Empress Hotel, headquarters of the congress, last held here ten years ago. The 1940 convention of executives of the Pacific Coast's major industry—men whose companies' operations run into hundreds of millions of dollars, men who come from all Pacific Coast provinces and states—has Fred M. Brown, Vancouver, as its head.

The three-day party got under way in the Crystal Garden banquet hall immediately after the "get-

Correct Constipation Before—Not After!

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of emergency relief. Why let yourself suffer those dull, listless days because of constipation, why bring on the need for emergency medicines, when there may be a far better way? That way is to keep regular by getting at the cause of the trouble.

If it's common constipation, due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, a pleasant, nutritious, ready-to-eat cereal—Kellogg's All Bran—goes straight to the cause by supplying the "bulk" you need.

Eat this crunchy, moist cereal regularly, drink plenty of water, and see if you don't forget all about constipation. All Bran is made by Kellogg's in London, Canada. Sold by all grocers, in two convenient sizes.

together" breakfast in the Empress Hotel. The Minister of Lands represented Premier Patullo in extending British Columbia's welcome to the delegates, and the city's greetings were conveyed by Mayor Andrew McGavin.

Close co-operation between the peoples of the United States and Canada in the preservation of democracy was the utmost importance. Mr. Gray declared that nothing else came of the congress, the friendships formed between Americans and Canadians would be well worth while.

BATTLE OF AMERICA

Replying to the minister's welcome, Mr. Denman said the people of the United States were mindful of the fact that Canada was spending all her resources and sending her best men to fight the battle not only of the British Empire, but also of America.

The congress president, Mr. Brown, spoke of Canada's appreciation of the economic help provided by the United States in the present conflict, declaring that it would not be an exaggeration to say that without that aid victory for the Empire might be impossible, whereas, with it, victory was certain.

A Whelan, Portland, congress secretary, prophesied that sooner than might be expected, Canada's burden might be shared by the United States, and urged that Americans should learn from their visit to this Dominion how to carry on the fight for the continued liberty of the human soul.

A plea for study of forest conservation, a matter of vital importance on the Pacific Coast, was voiced by Mayor McGavin in his welcome to the delegates. He asserted that timber on this island, largest single producing area in the Dominion, was being exhausted at an alarming rate.

BUSINESS SESSION

Following the preliminary exchange of greetings, the conference got down to business when J. G. Robson, president of the British Columbia Lumber and Shingle Manufacturers' Association, delivered the first scheduled address on "Correlation of the Timber Industry With War Activities."

He declared that under increasing war purposes demands, British Columbia lumbermen had done many things for the United Kingdom that before the war they would not have believed possible of accomplishment. The industry's first problem, he said, was declared was drastic rearrangement of its markets. Before the war, 30 per cent of British Columbia lumber had been sold within Canada, 10 per cent to non-Empire foreign markets, and 60 per cent to the different parts of the Empire. Last year the United Kingdom alone had taken nearly 50 per cent of the export.

Britain's demand for Canadian lumber had increased enormously following the conquest of the Baltic countries, and British Columbia mills were asked to produce types of lumber strange to them, involving cutting-to new sizes.

"The industry here has tried to forget what we wanted to do, ourselves, and to supply the United Kingdom with what it wanted in the form it requires," Mr. Robson said.

CANADA'S PROGRAMME
He enumerated many headings under which the lumber industry had to supply material for Canada's war programme, mentioning the housing of 75,000 men under the Empire air training plan; the building of 325 airplane hangars; housing of 175,000 men for militia training; building of some $183,000,000 worth of factory buildings for war material production; construction of warehouses for munitions and war supplies; and provision of lumber for new power development projects, new mines, new docks and new transportation facilities.

Following the luncheon adjournment the delegates settled down in the afternoon to discussion of technical problems and developments of the industry, after the report of the apprentice-training committee had been read by Mr. Whelan, in the absence of Emmanuel Frita, committee chairman.

Oak Bay Community Generously Helps Red Cross Effort

Annual Meeting of Branch, Held Last Night, Receives Reports Covering Year's Work—Capt. F. G. Dexter Elected President

A YEAR of amazing activity, embracing every phase of needlework and many money-raising enterprises, was represented in the reports read at the annual meeting of Oak Bay Red Cross Society held at the Oak Bay Municipal Hall last night.

Appreciation of, and confidence in, last year's committee was expressed in the result of the elections, which returned all to office, as follows: Honorary president, Judge P. S. Lampman; president, Captain F. G. Dexter; vice-president, Reeve R. Taylor; secretary, Commander C. H. R. Silsby; workroom convenor, Mrs. P. F. Curtis; committee, Mrs. N. Baker, Mrs. Neville, Miss Curry, Mrs. Hulme, Mrs. W. Ellis and Mrs. Macdonald.

Acting as chairman, in the absence of Judge Lampman, Captain Dexter gave a report of some of the outstanding activities of the branch during the year that had elapsed since the inauguration of the unit on September 15, 1939. He particularly referred to Judge Lampman, expressing the members' appreciation of the interest he had taken in the work, and their regret at his inability to be present, owing to illness.

MANY ACTIVITIES

Combining with his report that of the acting secretary, Commander Silsby, Captain Dexter spoke of some of the major efforts to raise funds and supplies, both for the Red Cross and for the refugee branch of the work. Among the activities mentioned were the shows held on June 7 at Mrs. Armstrong's, when $532 was subscribed, and generous supplies donated; the tea held in the home economics room of the technical school in June, under the direction of Mrs. H. C. Corbett; the candy stall operated in connection with the Red Cross garden party at Government House in August, and the work of the children of Monterey and Willow Schools, under the direction of Miss B. Rogers and Miss B. Bradshaw, in supplying materials and funds.

Among those specially thanked, in addition to the members of the executive and committee, the workers in the rooms, and those who had made earnest work in their own homes, were the Oak Bay School Board for the use of the room and fittings, and the Oak Bay Transfer Company for free cartage.

WORKROOM REPORT
In her report, Mrs. Curtis, convenor of the workroom, covered in detail the work turned out by the needlewomen both in the unit headquarters and in their own homes. Among the most active of the several groups which had contributed wonderful work were the ladies of Oak Bay United Church.

The workroom had turned over to the Red Cross 102 pairs of pyjamas; 671 pairs of socks; 792 mattress pads; 330 sweaters; 170 handkerchiefs; seventy-two pillow cases; fourteen hospital shirts; forty-two hospital gowns; thirty-two pneumonia jackets; seventy-three pairs of wristlets; sixty-two helmets; seventy-two triangular bandages; sixty-two pairs of mitts; seventeen dressing gowns; thirty-six scarves; nine hot-water bags, and many other articles.

A tremendous number of blankets, quilts, boys' pyjamas, shirts, blouses, sweaters, socks and hose, boys' trousers, girls' dresses and woolen outfits, blouses, bloomers, nightgowns, comfortable coats and dresses and underwear had also been made for refugees.

Attention was drawn to a little exhibit containing samples of some of the garments made in the workroom. Members of the audience showed much interest in this after the meeting.

Mrs. Hulme, the treasurer, gave a satisfactory report; and Reeve Taylor and Colonel R. S. Worsley also spoke briefly, the former commending the committee and workers of the unit and congratulating them on behalf of the entire Oak Bay community, and the latter, representing Red Cross headquarters, thanking the branch for its fine contribution.

No Lighting Funds
The City Council parks committee has no funds to provide lighting at Macdonald Park during use by troops, it was decided at a meeting yesterday afternoon. Alderman S. H. O'Neil presided.

Plans for Halloween bonties were made by the committee. Local service clubs will be asked to take charge of a fire. Discussion was held on Rugby dates for the various parks.

It was agreed to suggest to the council that a fee of 50c be set for destroying single or litters of cats.

Conservatives Plan Campaign to Rebuild Federal Association

National President Starts Preliminary Organization in Battle of Ballots to Come—Will Attend Provincial Meetings Across Canada

OTTAWA, Oct. 2 (P.)—In the midst of the bloody battles of war the National Conservative party bestirs itself to prepare for the bloodless battles of ballots in the days to come.

Dominion Conservative headquarters today announced the start of a campaign to rebuild the Dominion Conservative Association on a nation-wide basis. Letters bearing the signature of the association president, John R. MacNicol, member of Parliament for Toronto-Davenport, are going out to about 2,500 Conservatives who attended the national convention of the party at Ottawa in 1938.

Initial objective of the campaign is a membership of 20,000 for the association. "The long-range objective is to invigorate the party so it can play its traditional role in Canadian democracy."

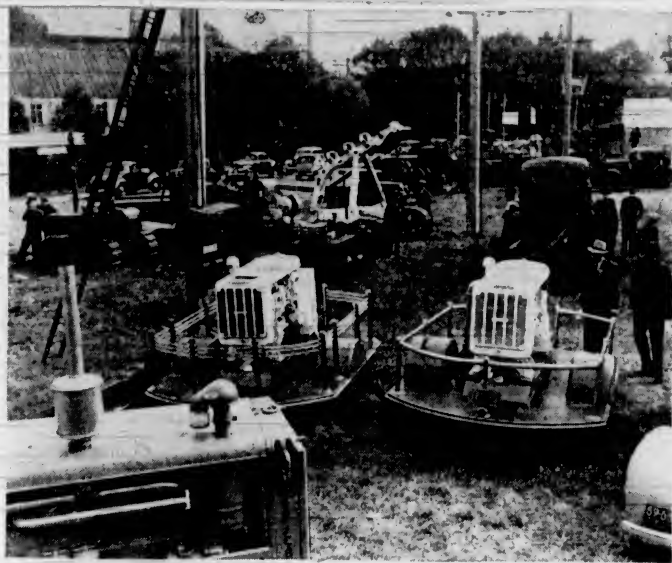

TWO-FOLD OBJECTIVE
"Political organization should have as its objective the preservation of freedom and democracy, and therefore must be directed towards maintaining a strong opposition capable of becoming a government when occasion demands," the organization's letter states.

"A strong opposition, based on patriotism, can materially assist and co-operate in the paramount work of our nation today, which is to win the war and to make adequate preparation for the rehabilitation which must necessarily follow."

A Dominion Conservative Association on a permanent basis has been the aim of leading members of the party for years. As long ago as 1936, soon after the party went out of power at the 1935 election, a constitution was drawn up for it. The constitution was approved at the 1938 convention and a start made towards enrollment of members. The war and the necessity of turning party activity into the election campaign of last winter side-tracked the plan.

DISTINCT ORGANIZATION
The Dominion association is to be distinct from, but in contact with bombing of London has been carried out mainly with Heinkel, while Junkers 88s are used chiefly for daylight attacks.

SECRET OF ENEMY'S PLANES REVEALED

The reasons were believed to be that the Heinkel night bomber has less defensive equipment than the Junkers 88. Consequently the Junkers are reserved for daylight as they are able to put up a better fight against the British defenders.

TESTS EXHAUSTIVE

Exhaustive tests have convinced experts that German Messerschmitts are neither as manoeuvrable nor as fast as British Spitfires and Hurricanes.

British pilots, however, acknowledge they have a healthy respect for the Messerschmitt 110 twin-engine fighter bomber which is regarded as an excellent plane and the best in German production.

Another development discovered was that the Junkers 88 dive bomber has had its number of free machine-guns doubled from three to six. This particular plane, dated August 7, was regarded as one of the newest German designs.

German designers appear to be putting on armor and armament in an effort to cut down losses they are suffering in the battle for Britain.

House Burned on Gabriola Island

NANAIMO, Oct. 2 (P.)—Believed to have started from a defective pipe leading to the chimney flue, fire demolished the five-room dwelling and contents on Gabriola Island owned by R. L. Shimmins, of Vancouver. The owner, with his gardener, was in a hobby garden when they first noticed smoke. Believing it was due to a bush-burning in progress on the island, they made no investigations. A tall row of sunflowers between them and the house obscured their view of the house.

The members present greatly appreciated Mrs. Hamber's gracious visit.

Minister of Supply, and Arthur Greenwood, minister without portfolio. They may interchange portfolios.

It said also Viscount Halifax, holder of Foreign Secretary of the Chamberlain Government, also may resign, with War Secretary Anthony Eden mentioned as his successor.

The same reports said Labor Minister Ernest Bevin, a powerful figure in the Labor Party, probably would become a member of the War Cabinet.

There have been two complicating factors in the Churchill-Chamberlain drama operating behind the political scenes.

CONSERVATIVES

In the first place, Mr. Chamberlain has continued as leader of the Conservative Party, the biggest group in the House, controlling enough votes to make or break any government. Second, Mr. Churchill in recent years has been distinctly unpopular with the Conservative hierarchy, because of his independent view on rearmament, appeasement, air supremacy over Germany and German preparations for war.

But now these two factors have become less acute. It is doubtful if any modern Prime Minister has captured the popular support of the British people as Mr. Lloyd George guided the country through the critical years of the last war.

Most political observers agree Mr. Chamberlain is no longer a political force, almost as dead politically as his predecessor in office, Earl Baldwin, whose name is not mentioned once a year in affairs of state.

He is still respected by the people, still honored for his many years of peacetime service to the state, but as a political force he has lost ground rapidly since the day he moved out of No. 10 Downing Street.

BON VOYAGE

Vancouver Islanders in particular, and British Columbians as a whole, will wish the best of good luck to all ranks of the 1st Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment, as they set out on the final stage of a journey which will bring them to the course of time to the battlefield. They have carried out some few months of training here; more to follow when they are brought into touch with the modern machinery of war, and some time may elapse before they are considered fit for hostilities. The Battalion is composed of men drawn from practically every walk of life in this far western outpost of the Empire; some whose previous occupations kept them physically fit; others who, by the strenuousness of military training, are being brought up to the standard of endurance expected from those on active service. Almost all the personnel of this unit have their homes on Vancouver Island. It is the first full battalion of a regiment to go from here during the present war. The officers and men carry with them heartfelt wishes for their safety and for their winning of renown. Those who know them have full confidence that they will uphold nobly the honor and prestige of this quarter of the Dominion. All wish them bon voyage to their ultimate destination and a speedy return with victory to their homeland.

A FIVEFOLD CENSORSHIP

If the press in Great Britain had to put up with the divagations of the censorship as it exists in Canada there would be such a stew, such a ferment, such an outcry as would pillory the responsible authorities until, for very shame, they would resort to the employment of ordinary common sense. In Great Britain censorship in war time is designed "to prevent publicity inadvertently being given to matters which might be of value to the enemy." A few weeks ago strong criticism arose because the Air Ministry discovered a new ground for censorship. Facilities were given to journalists to visit an R.A.F. establishment. Accompanying the permission was a letter to the newspapers "stating that the facilities are afforded on the understanding that articles written as the result of the visit are submitted to A.16 (a department of the Air Ministry) for examination not only from the point of view of security but of 'Service Suitability.' Newspapers were also warned that the Censorship Bureau at the Ministry of Information had been informed of the facilities afforded, and that it would not release articles which have not previously been approved by A.16."

This is what the press of Great Britain calls a "double censorship." In Canada the press is subjected to five different censorships, which at times run counter to each other and in doing so waste the time of the newspaper. There is a censorship bureau at Ottawa, there is a sub-censorship for each of the provinces. The Navy, the Army and the Air Force each has appointees who combine the roles of censor and intelligence officers. These five authorities, where one would suffice, do not act in harmony, not that they do not desire to, but because each occasionally has a different conception relating to what is publicity that would be of value to the enemy. The result is, often enough, that there is such an emasculation of news that what is permitted to be printed becomes meaningless, or vacuous, while perfectly harmless and legitimate items of information, known to the public, are not permitted to appear in print, where they should appear as matter of record of happenings from day to day. The anomaly of the situation is sometimes that news that is not permitted to appear in the press can be read by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, the privileged tool of party political propaganda.

So far as the press of Canada is concerned it is full time that it should be responsible to one authority, and one authority alone, where censorship is concerned. As matters stand the newspapers are suffering loss of time, dissipating energies of their staffs, and incurring expenses that are wasted. Moreover, they are subject to constant irritations because of conflicting instructions by a fivefold censorship, each branch of which seems quite unaware, in a multiplicity of occasions, of what the other branch is doing. The ramifications of this perplexing and nagging censorship are costing the taxpayers a lot of money that could be saved for war effort. Moreover, because one or other of the censors, "dressed in a little brief authority," shows himself upon occasion, "most ignorant of what he's most assured," there is infringement of the liberty of the press, which Junius described as the "palladium of all civil, political and religious rights."

RETIRED PEOPLE

Victoria has long been, and will long continue to be, a favorite retreat for those who desire to spend their declining years in a mild climate amid beautiful surroundings. In the greater part of Canada there are cold, in some regions extremely cold winters, and also hot summers to set the balance even. Vigor diminishes with the passing years, and severe climatic conditions make great and ever greater demands upon physical strength and power of resistance. It is no wonder, then, that those who have borne the burden and heat of the day, to say nothing of the cold, should wish to retire from the more active pursuits of life, "to husband out life's taper to the close and keep the flame from wasting by repose."

This is the region, this the soil, the climate that invites to indeed the mere lotus-eaters whose ambition is to live an idle and effortless existence, but men and women who, although they have passed the meridian of life, nevertheless look forward to a period of moderate activity and continued usefulness. The figures in the Canada Year Book giving the proportion per thousand of the population by age periods show pretty clearly that "retired people" are here in considerable numbers. Naturally this circumstance has its effect upon the community as a whole. According to the last census, 427 per thousand of the population of the neighboring Province of Alberta were under twenty years of age as compared with 336 in British Columbia; whereas 284 in British Columbia were over forty-five years of age as compared with 197 per thousand in Alberta.

The daily life of a community whose population includes a disproportionate number in the higher brackets as regards age must differ, in certain respects from that of a community otherwise constituted. The business of shops and offices are conducted at a more leisurely tempo; a less strenuous atmosphere pervades the several fields of sport; social life is less feverish; the demands of the social round less exacting. Elderly people generally are apt to be governed by the spirit rather than by the strict letter of social observance. Social entertainment tends to become simpler and less elaborate among people who have only a certain amount of strength and energy at their disposal.

There is another circumstance that should not be forgotten in estimating the influence of retired people. It is that they come from communities in which they were, in many cases, men and women of light and leading, and when they came here they did not leave their personal qualities and capacities behind them. Considerable numbers come every year who were successful ranchers, agriculturists, merchants, bankers, financial executives and men in professional pursuits, and although it is reasonable to assume that "retired" people do not come here with the expectation of much further participation in the activities and rivalries of the forum, the market place, or the social arena, their contribution to the intellectual and cultural life of the community will be none the less real and enduring.

SKIMBLE-SKAMBLE STUFF

This newspaper has received more, and longer, letters on the "belling of cats" during the past few weeks than on the Battle of London. Correspondents should not complain because some of these are not published. They are of too great length, especially when consideration is given to the perspective of news values in these times. Perhaps the phase of human nature that is illustrated shows how the passions rise higher at domestic than at imperial tragedies. The fact that any authority should consider it worth while to discuss the "belling of cats" is a somewhat pathetic aspect of how human society functions. After all, if fable is to be believed, it is the mice who desire to hang a bell round the cat's neck so that they may know of its approach. The point is, however, that this subject should bulk so largely in the domestic mind when there are problems afoot of such infinitely greater importance, and when, at the same time, it is wholly improbable that the City Council will take the "catfish" action suggested. There are occasions when the civic authorities, as they ply the handle of the parish pump, afford a reminder of Hotspur's opinion of the Earl of Worcester:

Sometimes he angers me
 With telling of the moldwarp and the ant,
 Of the dreamer Merlin and his prophecies,
 And of a dragon and a finless fish,
 A clip-winged griffin and a moulten raven,
 A couching lion and a ramping cat,
 And such a deal of skimble-skamble stuff
 As puts me from my faith.

HISTORIC SENTINELS

For those who live in Regent's Park there is a new night sound. The geese have once again constituted themselves historic sentinels. In time of peace it was common for British airplanes to fly over London but they never disturbed the sleep of the geese at the Zoo in Regent's Park. Now these birds grow excited at the sound of a German raider and they discern its approach before the sirens are sounded, "even before the human ear has caught the drone of an airplane overhead." They herald its coming with an angry cackling. This is the story told by a dweller in Sussex Place. As in ancient Rome, the geese are ranged on the side of those who supply them with sustenance, they are feathered Londoners aiding the A.R.P.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

On Friday, the Royal Air Force performed the hat-trick. Even in the synopsis of the day's fighting that fact was evident. Six hundred Nazi planes in successive waves were denied the air over Britain, after they had used every trick in the Luftwaffe's bag. German air losses for the day were 133 planes, nine estimated 350 airmen; at a cost of thirty-four British planes, one-half of whose pilots landed safely. Great as that toll was, the story does not rest in the figures, but in the tactics of the day. For the third time inside of a month the Luftwaffe attempted to chop its way through, and failed completely.

One has to go back a little distance to find the true significance of this third major fighting success of British arms in the air inside of a single month. About six weeks ago, in his high-spirited address, plunging at Britain with imposing forces; sometimes with as many as 2,000 planes in a single day. Finding these successive thrusts countered by quick-raising fighter squadrons, the Luftwaffe staggered their assaults, and grew a little more cautious. They varied the altitude, the direction, and the weight of machines used in the attacks. Feinting at the north, they would plunge at the south; arriving in mass they would disperse in quick drives at well-separated objectives. But Britain's sky was watched at every point, and Nazi losses evidently began to hurt.

Then there was a distinct and noticeable change in tactics of the Luftwaffe. Large and loose formations of Nazi bombers formerly without escorts began to arrive in tightly-packed formations, with escorts of fighter planes. Britain met that effort in a clear-headed manner. Both the bombers and the fighters were taken on, by climbing and diving squadrons of British fighters; action beginning at the coast's edge, and the main drive of each attack being turned and spent before vital points on the ground could be reached. Meanwhile ground barrages were strengthening. Again the Luftwaffe's losses became the salient features in the day-to-day reports. The ratio was four, six and sometimes even ten to one.

That led, and very quickly, to the customary German reaction—massing. On the day that the Royal Air Force knocked down 187 Nazi planes out of the air, 400 German bombers with fighter screens had attacked in solid waves. That concentration of machine gun fire in the air had probably never been equalled before in any air battle. But Britain was again ready. Ack-ack batteries broke the Luftwaffe's formations. British fighter planes were waiting for that dispersal, and made prodigious use of it. Almost every second Nazi plane was knocked down out of the sky. Massing once more had failed, as it did similarly in the middle of August, nearly a month before.

The next major return by the Luftwaffe was a punitive expedition. Upwards of 300 Nazi planes, mostly of destroyer types, were sent against Britain, with the deliberate objective of strong-arming British fighter squadrons. R.A.F. squadrons met that assault full front, and took the Luftwaffe into camp for its second greatest defeat of the month of September. The thrust was stopped cold; and Nazi squadrons fled.

There followed then a revival of night bombing by Nazi planes that kept above the oxygen belt entirely; jetting their cargoes from four to five miles up in the air. More signal tribute could have been paid to the hard-hitting drive of the Royal Air Force. But even the night bombing from levels miles high failed to produce a military result to compare with its cost; and Britain's night defences were improving. So, on Friday, the Luftwaffe tried it again, with massed waves of 600 fighter planes and a number of a few bombers. They were stopped cold as before, and 133 of the Nazi machines became scrap metal for Britain. On that day, for the first time in a month, the Royal Air Force hit the Luftwaffe where it really hurts—in its morale.

SIR HENRY HARWOOD RECEIVES INSIGNIA

LONDON, Oct. 2 (CP).—Prime Minister Churchill lunched with the King yesterday at Buckingham Palace.

At a ceremony in the palace, the King yesterday conferred the insignia of knighthood on Rear Admiral Sir Henry Harwood, who commanded the three British cruisers in the battle against the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee off Uruguay last December.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily Colonist of October 3, 1890.
 Seattle's Elections—The election for Mayor and Councilmen and other civic officials was held in Seattle on Wednesday. The contest for the mayoralty was keen, but the Republican candidate carried the day, although by a not very large majority. Harry White was the Republican candidate, and John Collins was the Democratic Ward Prohibitionist. The complete returns are not yet at hand.

Attracted to Victoria—Among the list of passengers per steamer Yosemite for Vancouver on Thursday, appears those of Don Andres Keating, Mrs. Keating and family. Mr. Keating came to Victoria some eight or nine months ago, attracted by the delightful climate and opportunities for investment which the Island affords. Mr. Keating, who is estimated to be worth between one and two millions is a man of life and possessed of an enterprising spirit, combined with the business ability which has already won him a fortune.

The Cars Arrive—By last night's Mainland steamer the three new street cars destined for the Esquimalt route arrived, not much more than for their run across the continent. They were built by Patterson & Corbin of St. Catharines, Ont., but are much better than their first shipment to this city.

British Steamer Brings Children And Returned Men

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Oct. 2 (CP).—A British steamship came up the harbor today and passengers aboard her reported an "uneventful crossing" of the Atlantic from Britain.

There were a number of Canadian soldiers aboard, being returned because of physical defects. A number of British children also were on the vessel, but none of the passengers came ashore immediately.

From passengers along the deck rail, it was learned the children were bound for the United States and Ontario wartime homes.

Dangerous Subjects

Some bright author in the United States has written a book entitled "How to Handle a Mother-in-Law." We suppose his next subject will be, "How to Control a Wife." We are still wondering what happened to the automatic traffic signal ordered for the intersection of Quadra Street and Pandora Avenue. Last time we visited R.C.N. headquarters we noticed an enormous doghouse tucked away at the rear of a building near the gymnasium. "If I could get hold of that I would give it to you for a Christmas present," Aubrey commented.

When the daughter of a neighbor got married, father was the happy man. Bill, the Broad Street barber, came to work with a worried expression and a hand held against his tummy. "What is the matter this time?" his boss inquired. "I swallowed a dime," Willie moaned. "Funny, I don't notice any change in you," the boss quipped. For the various wartime services there are now several versions of the Canadian flag, but it is virtually impossible to get copies. Householders, motorists and others would undoubtedly be glad to find a shop where they could purchase well-made miniature flags. That should suggest something to a wide-awake flag factory. Many odd words such as parole, escape, intern, evacuate and enrolle greet us in the newspapers. To them we might as well add fatherless, motherless, brotherless, sisterless, driverless, operatorless, detectiveless, constabulary and pedestrianless. G-B

Glancing Over Sport

Verbally Victoria baseball fans are showering bouquets upon Owner Emil Sick and his Seattle Rainiers for winning the Coast League pennant and then following up this success with a clean-cut victory over Los Angeles in the play-off for the President's Cup and the lion's share of the series' pay cheques. Sure, I picked the Angels to win from the Sound City lads, but am I not wrong nine times out of ten? The Rainiers were "a cinch" after your truly took them to take a beating from the Californians.

Here's a good way to make yourself a little side money, Mr. and Mrs. Sport Phan, wait for me to pick them and then bet the other way and you can't go very wrong. I still can't see enough material around this town to form six senior clubs in the men's "A" basketball division. Two clubs entered in the circuit may give the Dominions a run for their money, but the others, I think, should be in another section. When Lawson Little played here at Oak Bay in the $3,000 open golf tournament a few years ago I heard some of the galleries say, "How did he ever win the United States and British amateur crowns twice in succession. He doesn't look like a big-time golfer to me." A statement which didn't mean a thing at the time, for Lawson is now national open champion and will start in defense of his $10,000 Los Angeles open claim shortly. Seventeen Thousand Citizens Apply for Permits in Unorganized Lands

Some 17,000 British Columbia citizens registered their firearms in unorganized territories of the province, exclusive of additional thousands who completed their returns in urban areas at Victoria, Vancouver and elsewhere within municipal limits, it was stated yesterday at the headquarters of the British Columbia Police.

Registrations ending on Monday, with the results being transmitted to Ottawa, where a central file will be kept. Figures were obtainable only for that portion of the registration which had been carried out by the Provincial Police, as municipal returns have yet to be made.

Conferences were under way yesterday to determine what procedure will be adopted in respect of those who may have failed to comply with the registration of firearms in their possession. While no express announcement was made, prosecutions will follow where that is found necessary, it was intimated.

WITHIN REACH OF ALL

Sir,—Walking up Fort Street towards the Dardanelles one passes Junior High School on the left. In the left corner of the grounds fronting the school grows a cucumber tree, now in full fruitage. Earlier in the season these fruits were green, in color and in shape were the counterpart of gherkins for pickling, but now they have donned their Autumn hue—nearly imperial red—and the tree looks quite ready for Christmas, decorated as it is with little red candles waiting to be lit. This tree, according to the Department of the Interior, Bulletin 61, "Native Trees of Canada," is indigenous to Canada, but not hereabouts.

Quoting the bulletin: "The cucumber tree is rare in Canada and is found only in the northwestern portion of Ontario in the counties bordering on Lake Erie." It is the Magnolia acuminata, L. Walking onward a few steps immediately after entering the Dardanelles, on the left or north side, may be noticed a half-dozen old chestnut trees. But these are by no means the same species as the horse chestnuts growing on Cook Street or Rupert Street. These trees growing along the Dardanelles are buckeye chestnuts and much finer in their nature than the horse chestnuts. But neither, scientifically speaking, are chestnuts at all—acaculac, lippacastanum and octandra (probably). The real chestnut, which is the one we eat, is castanea pumila and, as the name indicates, belongs to another family entirely.

Now, if we pass through the Dardanelles and continue a few steps along Oak Bay Avenue, we come to Mrs. Kennings' residence, corner of Belcher and Oak Bay Avenue. Over the laurel hedge grows one of the most perfect and charming trees in all Victoria. It is a species of araucaria, the monkey-puzzle tree, but which has fed, causing it to produce red and brown blotches the exact counterpart of colorings of its own segments. But its great art is to flax itself from twig to leaf that it appears to be a part of the living plant and it works this stunt to perfection—even to deceiving birds perched a foot or two away.

CANADA PROUD OF COMMANDER

Skipper of Robert Congratulated by Premier, Navy Minister and Admiralty

OTTAWA, Oct. 2 (CP).—Hearty congratulations from Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Navy Minister Macdonald and the British Admiralty were sent to Commander Charles T. Board of H.M.C.S. Prince Robert, on the recent capture of the German freighter Weser off Manzanillo, Mexico, Mr. Macdonald announced today at a press conference attended by some ten newspaper reporters.

The Prince Robert, a former Canadian National Steamship passenger vessel, recently converted into an auxiliary cruiser, now is enroute to the West Coast naval station at Esquimalt, B.C.

"GREAT WORK"

"Hearty congratulations to yourself, to the officers and men of H.M.C.S. Prince Robert from all your fellow Canadians," was Mr. King's message.

"Great work, Robert. All Canada proud," wireless Mr. Macdonald. "Please convey my congratulations to all concerned on capture of German ship Weser. This early success for H.M.C.S. Prince Robert, on her maiden voyage is, I feel sure, a good augury for the future," was the message from the Admiralty.

Mr. Macdonald said he had not yet received detailed information on the cargo and probable destination of the Weser when the Prince Robert pounced on her shortly after her departure from Manzanillo on September 26. The Weser's crew numbers fifty-eight men. As non-combatants they will not be prisoners of war, but they will be given the status of internees.

PRIZE MONEY

The prize money accruing from the capture of the ship will run to more than $500,000, Mr. Macdonald estimated. While no arrangement about prize distribution has yet been made, he said, it is probable the same method followed in the last war will be adopted.

Then the prize money coming to all the navies of the British Commonwealth as a result of the capture of enemy ships was pooled and distributed to the officers and men at the end of the war.

Mr. Macdonald said no interference with Japanese ships reported to be carrying German-made goods to Mexican ports for sale in Latin America was contemplated.

SERVED ABOARD
WARCRAFT HERE

Late Admiral Whittingham Arrived Here on Amphion Fifty-One Years Ago

Engineer Rear Admiral William Whittingham, R.N., who passed away in England on Monday, was well known here in the latter days of the last century. He first came to the Coast in the late eighties, when H.M.S. Amphion was commissioned for the North Pacific station December 11, 1888, according to J. E. Day, Victoria, who was also aboard the ship, and arrived at Esquimalt in May, 1889, serving aboard her as Engineer Lieutenant-Commander.

It was November 6, 1889, that the Amphion arrived here, that she went ashore below Kellett Bluff while proceeding from Victoria to Vancouver with Lord and Lady Stanley and viceregal party aboard. The late Admiral Whittingham was stationed here until July, 1890, proceeding from here to China and later to the Mediterranean Station. Later he was chief engineer of the Royal Naval Dockyard at Halifax. During the Great War, he was with the Grand Fleet, serving on Earl Beatty's staff.

He leaves a son, Air Commodore Harold Edward Whittingham.

Rejected Effort
Of Movie Player
To Join Service

OTTAWA, Oct. 2 (CP).—An application for service with the Royal Canadian Air Force was played by Jackie Coogan, child acting star of the silent films, but it met rejection, according to information available at the Air Ministry today.

The Air Ministry gave no reason for the rejection.

A dispatch from Hollywood said Coogan, twenty-six, had said he would serve at Trenton, Ont., as a civilian flying instructor.

When first queried on the story, the Air Ministry said they had no word of Coogan's intentions, but after further inquiries rejection of Coogan's application was found.

DEATH CLAIMS
AGED ENGINEER

Robert A. Steele, Veteran of Coast Ships, Passed Away Yesterday

Associated with the sea as a marine engineer for over sixty years, fifty of which were spent on ships plying out of Victoria, Robert A. Steele passed away here yesterday at the age of eighty-three.

The late Mr. Steele was born in Greenock, Scotland, where he served his apprenticeship, subsequently going to sea and arriving in Victoria in 1886. At different times he was employed by Robert Dunsmuir & Sons, the old Canadian Pacific Navigation Company, the Canadian Pacific Steamships and the Dominion Government, aboard the D.G.S. Quadra.

During the past twenty years he was mainly employed by the Pacific Salvage Company, aboard the S.S. Salvage King. Among noteworthy salvage jobs he was engaged on was the towing of the broken-down freighter Havilah from Dutch Harbor to Japan, one of the longest tows on record in the 1920s, when he filled the post of second engineer aboard the salvage ship.

Mr. Steele left no relatives in Victoria, his wife predeceasing him seven years ago. A number of nieces and nephews survive in Scotland. Funeral arrangements are to be announced later.

Merchant Seamen
To Be Protected
From Air Attack

OTTAWA, Oct. 2 (CP).—Hereafter, personnel on all ships registered in Canada will be afforded protection from machine-gun attack by enemy aircraft by special equipment, Navy Minister Macdonald announced today.

The minister said the nature of the equipment, which will consist of armor for the bridge and exposed parts of the deck, must be approved by a competent naval authority before the ship would be allowed to put to sea.

Some fifty merchant ships are staffed by gunners from the Royal Canadian Navy and the guns on other vessels are manned by merchant seamen trained by the Canadian Navy.

SAILOR KILLED
ABOARD VESSEL

Crew Walks Off Polish Ship Rather Than Sail for England

HOBOKEN, N.J., Oct. 2 (AP).—The body of an unidentified seaman with his skull battered in was found aboard the Gdynia-America Line freighter Canada today, less than twenty-four hours after the crew had walked off rather than carry supplies to Great Britain. Police said the seaman was a victim of foul play.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP).—Guards at Gdynia-America Line pier in Hoboken, N.J., where ships bound for Great Britain are loaded with United States cargoes, have been rebuffed because of "uninvited callers" at night.

While officials of the Polish line refused comment, other sources said the Federal Bureau of Investigation had been checking reports that alien-seamen are being bribed not to sail on the ships.

The Yukon, an Alaska Steamship Company's vessel, was loaded with a cargo for London. The ship is operated by the Gdynia-America Line.

The Yukon, an Alaska Steamship Company vessel northbound, proceeded towards Juneau after the accident. A survey there revealed no serious damage and the ship was to continue its voyage. The beacon, built at a cost of $75,000, weighed several hundred tons.

MUST PROVIDE OWN UTENSILS

Draftees Asked to Bring
 Knives, Forks, Spoons,
 Etc., to Camp

Men who report for a month's compulsory military training at the Gordon Head camp on October 9 will be required to provide their own cleaning and eating utensils.

This was made clear yesterday by Colonel T. B. Monk, Victoria officer, who will command the training centre, when he stated that those called to undergo training should remember to bring shaving kit, brush, comb, soap and towels, knife, fork and spoon, and personal cleaning kit.

A similar request was made of men of the N.P.A.M. units who spent two-week periods of training under canvas last month.

Men who own automobiles will have to leave them at home, Colonel Monk said, as there is no accommodation at the camp for private cars. An augmented bus service will be operated on the Gordon Head route by the Vancouver Island Coach Lines, however, to meet the extra traffic between the city and Gordon Head owing to the camp.

MOVE IN MONDAY
 Construction at the camp is being rushed to completion. The advance party of the administrative staff will go into camp today, and Colonel Monk and the balance of the permanent staff will move in on Monday.

Some 215 officers and men will be included in the permanent staff of the new training centre, which will provide instructors, office staff, kitchen help and all fatigue parties, leaving the full thirty days free, as far as the draftees are concerned, for military training.

Major Aeneas McB. Bell-Braving Vancouver, has been appointed second in command of the Gordon Head camp, it was announced yesterday. With the first anti-aircraft regiment when the war began.

Major Bell-Braving was later with the 15th Brigade, R.C.A. He was chief recruiting officer for a short time.

A correspondent says he saw a subaltern in rather tight uniform burst a seam as he smartly saluted a general. A rift in the Lieut.

HIT TUNES SUNG IN RIO PICTURE
 Western Film "South of the Border" Has Gene Autry and Mary Lee in Leads

A number of new songs make their appearance in "South of the Border," Republic picture, which comes to the Rio Theatre today, with Gene Autry in the lead.

The numbers include "Girl of My Dreams," "Moon of Manana," by Johnnie Mercer; "Come to the Checkboard Bend of Chicago," by Art Wenzel, of the Checkboard Band of Chicago.

"Goodbye Little Darling" by Marvin and Gene Autry; and "Merry-Go-Round" to be sung by Mary Lee, of Ted Weems' orchestra, who flew out to the Coast for a role in the film.

The theme song of the picture is, of course, the sensationally popular "South of the Border," which was featured by Gene Autry in his English tour.

MARITAL COMEDY IS AT OAK BAY
 "My Favorite Wife" Co-Stars Cary Grant and Irene Dunne—Here Today

A scintillating marital comedy, written especially for Miss Dunne and Cary Grant by Bella and Samuel Speckard, famous Broadway playwrights and screen writers, "My Favorite Wife" is a production by Leo McCarey, who brought Miss Dunne and Grant together in "The Awful Truth."

"My Favorite Wife" is a picture which presents today at the Oak Bay Theatre, opens Miss Dunne as a wife who has been missing for seven years, supposedly lost in a storm at sea.

She is miraculously saved, however, and returns home on the very day that her husband, Cary Grant, wedded his second wife.

The hilarious developments gain momentum when Grant learns that she spent the seven years alone on an island with handsome, athletic Randolph Scott—all of which is developed with a lightning-fast series of exciting sequences right through to the hilarious climax.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Karlin's Go

The liver should pour out two pints of bile into your bowels daily. If the bile is not flowing freely, your food does not digest. It just sits in the bowels. One block in your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons build up in your liver, your stomach and the whole body.

Mr. Karlin's movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Karlin's Little Liver Pills to get those two pints of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up" in the morning and generally. It means the bile flows freely. They do the work of a solvent. They dissolve the poisons in the liver. Ask for Karlin's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else.

Entertainers Welcomed at Y.M.C.A. Hut

The Y.M.C.A. Hut at Esquimalt was filled to capacity last night when the third concert sponsored by the Victoria Liberal Women's Association was given for the troops.

Fred M. McGregor acted as master of ceremonies and kept the audience in good spirits. Community singing was particularly popular. "Till the Lights of London Shine Again" and "Wish Me Luck as You Wave Me Goodbye" being especial favorites, with Mrs. N. Bertucci, organizer of the programme, at the piano.

Among the most popular of the individual artists was little four-year-old Beverly Sanderson, who received an ovation when she gave her tap dance and song, "Ma," and "It's a Long Way to Tipperary."

Mrs. J. Slater sang "L'Amour, Toujours l'Amour," and other vocalists were Miss Margaret Johnson, who sang "If I Had My Way" and one of the choruses, and Bob Hanson, who sang "It's a Lovely Day Tomorrow." Joy Merriman, with her pal, "Torchie," received an uproarious welcome after her clever ventriloquist act. Ida Lalonde gave a spy dance, accompanied at the piano by Miss Violet Fowler, and a vocal sextette, composed of Margaret Johnson, Muriel and Doreen Petherbridge, Betty Brotherton, Joy Merriman and Agnes Simm, sang several numbers with chorus.

Several of the boys from the audience mounted the platform by special request of the chairman and made a lusty chorus in singing "Home on the Range," "Annie Laurie," "Beer Barrel Polka" and other numbers, the lads being Corporals Harry Winterford, William Baftman and Frank Reeve, and Sergeants George Pollock and W. Brown.

Judge Coleman upheld the argument of defence counsel that although the organization was dated July 4, it was not actually published in The Canada Gazette until July 5. Counsel argued the order did not become law until its publication.

New Bureau Is Opened at C.P.R. Dock

The Y.W.C.A. with its ever-widening scope, has branched into a new field of activity, brought about on account of the war. On Tuesday the new information service bureau was opened at the C.P.R. dock waiting room, Belleville Street, in aid of soldiers, sailors and airmen and their families.

The scheme has been carefully worked out and the service has been authorized by the Auxiliary Services Co. - ordinating, Council, Victoria district, in co-operation with the Y.W.C.A. Travelers' Aid Department, the latter having been in operation for a number of years.

Volunteer workers will be at the information desk daily to assist the traveling service men and their families. Miss Isabel Russell, the Travelers' Aid secretary, spoke appreciatively of the splendid co-operation of the police, taxi men, officials and others at the dock, and that all seem eager to help in every way possible.

The scope of the work outlined in folders handed to any of the service men desiring information contain directions for transportation, important city addresses, points of interest, libraries, night classes, recreation and hospitality, service men's rights and cautions, health and emergency facilities, and addresses of employment services and the welfare association.

ROOMS REGISTRY

The question of rooms registry has been found to be an important one, and the committee in charge has made an exhaustive survey of available rooms in and about the city. The meeting of boats is another feature of the work for which there is need, as when men are not on leave there has heretofore been no means of communicating with relatives arriving on the boat.

In many cases the Y.W.C.A. has provided comfortable temporary quarters for wives and mothers with small children who arrive in the city, bewildered as to where to go and unable to communicate with their husbands. This service will be continued and the committee is anxious to know that such facilities were available.

Each Friday a list of special entertainment events will be prepared by the committee and these will be distributed to the men.

Marriage Is Solemnized At St. Luke's

A pretty but quiet wedding, attended only by relatives and close friends of the principals, took place at 8 o'clock last evening at St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill, when Natalie Esther, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hulbert, San Francisco, became the bride of Mr. Cedric B. E. Lefevre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Edward Lefevre, 4715 Bank Street, Victoria. Rev. Frederick Pike was the officiating clergyman.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming and dignified in a floor-length dress of white faille fashioned on Colonial lines, her short veil held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a Colonial bouquet. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Eileen Blake, who wore a dress of blue net with small off-the-face veil of the same material, trimmed with blue velvet ribbon. She too, carried a Colonial bouquet. Mr. Thomas M. Little was best man, and the ushers were Mr. George P. Cameron and Mr. Robert Hetherington. At the organ console, Mr. P. H. Hughes played the wedding marches and other incidental music.

Immediately following the ceremony at the church, a small informal reception was held at "Rose-hedge," Purcell Place, the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Cameron. Flowers were artistically arranged through the reception rooms. The buffet supper table, set for a centerpiece a bowl of pink and white asters and maidenhair fern, and on it also was the two-tier wedding cake, trimmed with pink and white roses. Dr. E. W. Hetherington proposed the toast to the bride in an eloquent little speech, to which the bridegroom made appropriate response.

Mr. and Mrs. Lefevre left about midnight for a honeymoon trip by motor, the bride's smart going-away dress being of brown velvet, with green hat and brown accessories. On their return they will make their home in Victoria.

Superfluities Shop Holds Successful Birthday Tea

Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber Congratulate Committee Which Has Given $9,400 to Red Cross

The Red Cross Superfluities Shop's first birthday party, held yesterday at the store on Government Street, was a very great success from every standpoint, and resulted in many beautiful gifts of silver, gold, glass, brass, copper, and even gold being added to the stores.

Among the many who called to extend their good wishes were His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber, who, accompanied by Mrs. Mac Rice and Mr. Hew Paterson, remained to have tea with the committee and inspected every detail of the store. Before leaving His Honor congratulated the committee on the splendid work they were doing also expressing interest in learning that several other Red Cross centres in Canada had followed the example of the Victoria centre by having a superfluities shop.

His Honor's comments were inspired by the remark of a member of the committee to the effect that shops had been opened in Vancouver, West Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary, Ottawa, and other centres. Vancouver to date having collected over $5,000. West Vancouver, opened in June, over $1,000, and Edmonton, on its opening day, September 21, taking in $500.

RECEPTION COMMITTEE

Brigadier-General J. G. Austin, chairman of the Red Cross Society, Mr. A. H. Pease, manager of the superfluities shop, Colonel R. S. Worsley, honorary secretary of the Red Cross Society, and Mr. Stewart Clark, chairman of the shop committee, welcomed His Honor and Mrs. Hamber on their arrival. Boy Scouts from St. Michael's School, in charge of Patrol Leader J. McLaughlin, and Girl Guides formed a guard of honor and lined off the lane through which the guests of honor passed on their way through the rooms.

Occupying a conspicuous place on a table in the main shop was the big birthday cake, donated by Molly's Cake Shop. Mrs. Hamber made the first incision in the cake, which was decorated with Red Cross with a tiny single candle set in the middle, and Mrs. Stewart Clark, director of the shop staff, and with whom the idea of the birthday tea originated, completed the cutting and distribution of the cake.

Cakes were donated by workers and other friends, the Jamieson Coffee Company supplied the tea and a large urn, and a big corps of assistants, all wearing Red Cross arm bands, helped with the serving. The shop was gay with flowers sent by Ballantyne's, a particularly beautiful bowl of gold chrysanthemums and Michaelmas daisies centring the guest table where His Honor and Mrs. Hamber, Mrs. Rice and Mr. Paterson had tea with General and Mrs. Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Pease, Colonel and Mrs. Worsley, and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Clark.

INSPECT PREMISES

In their tour round the premises, His Honor and Mrs. Hamber were greatly interested to see the giant tooth paste tube made by Miss Ellen Hart to advertise the drive for the saving of empty tooth paste tubes. This is exhibited outside the shop. In one of the rooms at the rear of the shop, Mr. and Mrs. Hamber were shown the thirty-nine huge containers, with the assistance of the Kiwanis Club, are to be distributed about the schools of the city for the reception of tooth paste tubes. They also noted the framed collection of Red Cross receipts acknowledging sums totaling $9,400 handed over by the superfluities shop committee since the opening of the shop twelve months ago.

Mrs. A. T. Dawes operated a lucky dip which yielded $21 in 15-cent expenditures by the guests, many of whom abstracted attractive prizes. Fortune-telling, in charge of Mrs. W. H. Bone and Mrs. Alcock, also added to the proceeds of the birthday tea. Other Red Cross committee members present included E. R. Cawley, Harold Diggon and E. A. M. Williams, and tea helpers were Mrs. J. Macraister, Mrs. M. Kotherham, Miss A. Parkes, Mrs. H. H. Fisher, Mrs. F. McIlroy, Mrs. S. Jeanne, Mrs. W. R. Young, Mr. H. M. H. Mackenzie, Miss Norah Wilson, Miss Kay Clay, Mrs. A. Hope, Miss M. Izard, Mrs. A. de M. Melin, Miss V. Kennedy Smith, Miss Joyce Dawes, Mrs. A. S. Dawes, Mrs. D. C. Frame and Mrs. G. D. Irwin.

POWELL—GOLD

Baskets of Autumn flowers arranged in the chancel of St. Mary's Church made a pretty background for the wedding of Cecile Evelyn second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Gould, 777 Fairland Road, and Mr. Chester A. Powell, only son of the late Mr. J. W. Powell, and Mrs. A. L. Moss, 2444 Florence Street, which was solemnized by Rev. Cyril Venables at 9 o'clock last evening. The organist was in attendance.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in a princess gown of white slipper satin, with long pointed sleeves, and a hip-length veil caught into a bandeau of frilled net. She carried an all-white bouquet of carnations, roses and gardenias. The bridesmaids were her sister, Miss Kathleen Gould, who wore a frock of aqua blue sheer and carried a Colonial peony of Burgundy scabious and pink carnations, and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Kathleen Powell, in a frock of dusty pink sheer trimmed with sequins, who carried a posy of mauve scabious and Tallian roses. They both wore floral head-dresses and veils to match their dresses. Mr. Albert Buckler was best man, and the ushers were Mr. Harry Guest and Mr. Edward Adams.

During a small reception at the home of the bride's mother, the bride couple stood before a fire-place banked with flowers. While streamers from the chandeliers came to each corner of the supper table, which was centred with the wedding cake and decorated with vases of white flowers and four white tapered Mrs. Gould was in a gown of dark green tulle with cream accessories, and Mrs. Moss wore dusty rose with maroon accessories, pink carnations composing their corsage bouquets. For a honeymoon on the Mainland, the bride left in a navy blue suit with a dark green felt hat and veil and matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell will make their home in Victoria.

HOLLAND—PORTEOUS

Gifts Were In Ship

Miss Viola Phelps, a bride-to-be of the month—was the guest of honor last evening at a delightful miscellaneous shower given by Miss Edna Steer at her home, 319 St. Lawrence Street. These were hidden in the hold of a gorgeous gold and mauve ship. Corsage bouquets of pink carnations and of rosebuds and stocks had been presented, respectively, to the bride-to-be and to Mrs. A. R. Phelps and Mrs. T. A. Heaslip, mothers of the bride couple, upon their arrival.

The evening was spent playing games and prizes were awarded to the winners. A buffet supper was served later. Mrs. A. Steer presided at the prettily-arranged table for which pink chrysanthemums and Michaelmas daisies in a rose bowl reflected in a mirror, and lighted by rose-colored candles in silver holders formed an attractive centerpiece. The invited guests were Messrs. A. R. Phelps, T. A. Heaslip, E. Rance, A. Steer, J. Jefferson, H. Ord, J. Holyoak, P. R. Blanco, P. Pranday and Misses Nathan, Mabel Bristow, E. Credit Union Has General Meeting

Members and friends of the Perpetual Help Credit Union held a general meeting and social get-together at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Government Street, last Monday.

Reports were read by the president, Mrs. J. J. O'Brien; treasurer, H. G. Hinton, C.A., chairman of the credit committee, F. I. Doherty, and chairman of the supervisory committee, J. D. Kissinger.

During its six months of operation, it was reported, the Perpetual Help Credit Union had grown rapidly and was now firmly established in the community as a means of financial assistance and economic betterment for its increasing membership.

Projects proposed for further study by the members were a sick benefit fund and a co-operative canning scheme. The necessity for close co-operation with other credit unions was stressed as a means of strengthening the movement. A number of new members were admitted at the close of the meeting.

He—"Those two-hour lectures always make a new man of me."

Co-ed—"You mean they give you something you've been lacking?"

He—"Yes, sleep!"

HIGHWAY WORK IS DEFENDED

Hon. C. S. Leary Says "Full Value Received for Permanent Work Done"

"British Columbia could use $25,000,000 on its roads. If it had the money. Meanwhile, all the highway commissions in the world would not alter the fact that it takes money. I say that for the money we have expended on our roads we have received good value, and that nine out of ten people throughout British Columbia will bear me out on that," Hon. C. S. Leary, Minister of Public Works, declared yesterday, in reply to criticism of provincial highways.

Captain Leary said that he had just returned from a personal tour of inspection of the roads system, in which he had driven over 2,000 miles on provincial highways, with his family. There were a few places in some highways that required attention, but for the most part, the condition of the highways was good, and the permanent work excellent.

"British Columbia has some of the best highway engineers in Canada. Give us the money and the Provincial Department of Public Works can build a system of roads second to none. We are through with patching and oiling. From now on it is permanent work that counts and we have received full value for every dollar expended so far on our permanent programme," Captain Leary declared.

What Today Means

"LIBRA"

If October 3 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:45 to 11:45 a.m.; from 1:45 to 3:45 p.m. and from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:45 to 9:45 a.m., from 9:45 to 7:45 p.m. and from 9:45 to 11:45 p.m.

The imagination will play an important part in today's affairs, affecting the sense of taste, perhaps will be responsible for the olfactory nerve being the cause of a needless amount of sniffing. Odors, however, whether they are real or imaginary, should be investigated, especially if you think you detect the smell of gas. A tendency to exaggerate will be one of the common faults of people predisposed to enthuse over commonplace things, so discount glowing statements and quickly made promises. Prospective buyers, using unfair means to force salesmen to make price concessions, may sooner or later find their lowering of one price has resulted in the raising of another, or the substitution of a poorer grade of merchandise. It is very poor judgment to expect to get something for nothing, especially today when unreasonable tactics are apt to be secretly resented.

Married and engaged couples, and those whose love is being reciprocated, should remember laughter, at the wrong time, is often responsible for quarrels and the bringing into existence of discordant conditions. If a woman and October 3 is your birthday, fickle-mindedness can have a serious affect upon your own and other people's happiness. Consider carefully each and every condition involved in any covenant you enter into. Broken promises often result in a loss of faith in human nature, and those who are responsible for them often pay heavily for their breach of contract. Through consistent good work you may make an enviable record as a trained nurse, dietitian, operator of a business, writer, teacher, missionary, public entertainer, artist, or musician. If you make the happiness of your home of paramount importance over any other desire your chances for a successful marriage appear to be excellent. The child born on October 3, as a rule, gives ample evidence of having a mind of its own through the decisiveness that generally characterizes its words and actions. Earnestness of purpose frequently enables Libra's children to realize their chief ambition. If a man and October 3 is your natal day, if you do not try to make other people your stepping-stones to success, you will probably attain it through your sticking "to the straight and narrow path." As an agriculturist, auctioneer, engineer, geologist, astronomer, botanist, chemist, educator, clergyman, contractor, manufacturer, financier, journalist, or author, you may win many laurels and a satisfactory bank account.

FIVE-RUN BLAST IN SECOND GIVES DETROIT GAME

Burrards Set for Opening Match at Montreal Tonight

Mainland Lacrosse Squad Arrives in East for Series Against Cornwall—Vancouver Lads Heavy Favorites to Capture Honors and Enter Final—Both Clubs to Be at Full Strength

MONTREAL, Oct. 2 (CP)—Vancouver Burrards, showing little signs of fatigue from their lengthy train ride, shook the kinks from their legs today with a short drill that led Coach Les Dickinson to pronounce them in "top shape" for their Canadian semi-final series against Cornwall Braves.

The Burrards, arriving here today after leaving Vancouver Saturday night, have been established as heavy favorites to sweep past the Braves in the best-of-three series which starts tomorrow. Lacrosse experts can't see the Coast bombers meeting much difficulty, despite the fact the Braves are held to be the best team to represent the Quebec Lacrosse Association in some time.

The Burrards have played favor, as they come from a province which is a hot-bed of lacrosse and are recognized there as one of British Columbia's better teams of the past few seasons. Quickly confident themselves, the Burrards are certain to win a man that they can vanquish the Cornwall club. Victory in the series would pit them against either St. Catharines Athletics or Brampton Excelsiors for the Dominion title.

Even of the fifteen Vancouver players have already played on a Mann, Munro or Lally Cup team. The oldest players on the club are Goble, Walt Lee and Centre Johnny Dale. Both twenty-seven, while the youngest is Frank Lee, an eighteen-year-old left winger.

Burrards are the first Western Canadian champions to engage in a play-off series in Montreal since 1938, while a New Westminster team played an exhibition game here in 1928.

Defenceman Bill Dickinson, son of the coach, was one of the Vancouver players to express confidence that the Western champions would come out ahead in the series with Cornwall.

CORNWALL, Ont., Oct. 2 (CP)—Cornwall Braves, senior champions of the Quebec Lacrosse Association, will throw a well-balanced mixture of veterans and youngsters against Vancouver Burrards, Western Canada titleholders, in the best-of-three game Canadian semi-final starting at Montreal tomorrow night. Montreal was chosen because there is no suitable playing surface available here.

Playing Coach Jack Dalbec's team is entirely home-brew. Six juniors stepped from the city leagues to the seniors this season and the squad was strengthened by addition of Lawrence Deebank, rainy star of former years, now in the Royal Canadian Air Force. Deebank, stationed at Ottawa, was granted permission to play with his old club.

All members of the team are eligible for Dominion finals if the Braves survive the semi-final round. They are Jack Dalbec, Rose Dalbec, Murd Stewart, Doug Nicholson, Henry Payette, Lawrence Deebank, Andy Anderson, Don Desjardins, Joe Gosselin, Cy Deroliers, Elsie Constant, John Dupras, Luke Payette, Edgar Lazon.

announced the winners and runners-up in the eclectic competition held during the months of July, August and September. In "A" class, Mrs. A. K. Shell finished with 71, 51-3, 65-2, while Peggy Hodgson was second with 70, 12-3, 68-1-3, and Mrs. M. Caverhill was the best in "B" section with 87, 8, 79 and Mrs. G. Straith, the runner-up, with 87, 7, 80.

PRO HOCKEY WILL ASSIST WAR EFFORT

Canadians to Contribute Fund of Half a Million During the Season

OTTAWA, Oct. 2 (CP)—Canadians playing professional hockey for American clubs this winter will be doing their bit for the war effort by making available an estimated $500,000 in foreign exchange. But it may mean him living for some time, because they get only a portion of their pay cheques for spending outside Canada.

The $500,000 estimate came tonight from a Government official. He said that through an arrangement between the Foreign Exchange Control Board and President Frank Calder of the National Hockey League, Canadians playing for American clubs will retain only a portion of their salaries for personal expenses. They will turn the remainder over to an authorized Canadian foreign exchange dealer.

As a basis for operation it has been suggested a single player restrict his living expenses while in United States to $25 a week and a married man spend $30 or more, depending upon the number of dependents.

CUBS TIE UP CITY SERIES

Defeat White Sox in City Play-Off Behind Pitching of Olsen

CHICAGO, Oct. 2 (CP)—Chicago Cubs, given a seven-hit pitching performance by Rookie Vern Olsen and some wobbly defensive work by their American League opponents, defeated White Sox, 8-2, today to square the city championship series at one victory apiece.

Billy Herman, Cub second sacker, pulled a muscle in his leg and had to retire in the fifth inning, and may be lost to the National League club for tomorrow night's third game.

Ontario Lacrosse Team Turns Back Provincial Squad

Easterners Retain Canadian Junior Boxla Honors and Minto Cup by Nosing Out British Columbia Players, 24-21, in Deciding Game of Series at Royal City

NEW WESTMINSTER, Oct. 2 (CP)—Ontario All-Stars tonight defeated the British Columbia All-Stars, 24-21, in the deciding game of their best-of-five series to retain the Canadian junior lacrosse championship and the Minto Cup for Eastern Canada.

The Westerners won the first two games, 16-13 and 23-21, but Ontario came back to take the last three 19-11, 19-12 and 24-21.

It was the third time the junior series had been held in Canada. British Columbia lost to Orillia Baby Terriers in Ontario in 1937, and Mimico Mountaineers came West to retain the title in a series with Richmond-Point Grey here in 1938. Last year the series was cancelled because of the war.

Tonight's game was one of the best played in the series and one which saw the British Columbians pull up from a 9-3 deficit in the first quarter to tie the count five times and hold a one-goal lead early in the final quarter.

The British Columbians made a desperate attempt to grab the lead in the third quarter after trailing 11-6 at half-time, and after Ontario moved ahead 13-6, raced uphill to outscore the Easterners 10-6. They trailed 17-16 going into the last quarter, but wilted in the dying minutes when Ontario turned on the pressure.

TAKEN FROM GAME

The British Columbians' star goalie, the Kingsley Crick, suffering from the flu, was brought to the game directly from hospital, but had to be taken out after the first four minutes of the opening quarter. Dave Yeanson was put in goal.

Another star of the Western team, Sam Kabatow, was taken from the game midway through the second quarter, with an injured leg after being boarded by Merv McKenzie, Ontario defenceman.

Bobby Goldham and Jack Gair starred for the new champions, the former scoring seven goals and assisting in two, while the latter drilled in six and assisted in one. Gair sank three of his goals in four minutes of the last quarter.

Jimmy Lang and Reg Phillips each netted four for British Columbia.

By JUDSON BAILEY

Enjoy First Entertainment of Autumn Season

Some 150 members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Victoria, No. 12, and friends attended the smoking concert in the lodge-rooms, 751 View Street, last night to signify the opening of the Autumn season's programme. Members were present from Nanaimo and other outside centres.

Charles Jasper was chairman of the evening's programme and introduced D. B. Essler, president of the lodge, who welcomed the visiting Eagles to the concert.

Among those contributing to the entertainment were pupils of Florence Clough's Dancing Academy, who presented a toe dance. Miss Bunty McKay, who was featured in a sword dance; Albert Denon, who played accordion selections; W. Holmes and W. Anderson, concertina and violin duets; F. Malby and I. Smith, members of the Royal Canadian Air Force, who played accordion and banjo solos; E. Chalmer, monologist; Bert White, novelty fiddler, and A. Pell, tenor soloist.

As an added feature, Frank Griffin and Bill Stoen staged a fast, five-round, exhibition wrestling match, with Bill Cox acting as referee.

Community singing was enjoyed by the large crowd and Cecil Heaton acted as accompanist.

Badminton Club Commences Season

A good turnout of players was on hand last night at the opening of the fall season of the Willows Badminton Club.

In addition to the regular members several new players attended. The club anticipates a big increase in membership in the near future. Playing nights for the coming season will be Mondays and Wednesdays. It was decided that men wishing to join the club who are members of the Canadian Active Service Force would be able to join the club free of entrance fee, but would pay their regular membership fees.

The club, which has sponsored a junior club for several seasons, has decided owing to the war and other conditions not to sponsor a young team this year.

GUN CLUB SHOOT

Members of the Victoria Skeet and Gun Club will hold another shoot Sunday at their Albert Head Road ground, at 1:30 o'clock. Trap and skeet events will be run off and ammunition and guns are obtainable on the ground. Visitors are extended a special invitation to attend.

PITCHED BALL KILLS BOY

MONTREAL, Oct. 2 (AP)—Robert Levesque, fourteen-year-old student at Beauharnois College, twenty-five miles south of here, died in hospital today from injuries suffered yesterday when struck on the head by a pitched ball during a baseball game at the college.

SAINTS WIN BOXLA GAME

St. Catharines Traction
Brampton in Series to Reach the Final

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Oct. 2 (AP)—St. Catharines Athletics won their third successive senior Ontario lacrosse championship tonight, swamping Brampton Excelsiors, 22-3, to move into the Canadian final.

The A's will meet the winner of the Vancouver Burrard-Cornwall Indians semi-final series in the Dominion title round for the Mann Cup. Finals start at Toronto on Monday. Vancouver and Cornwall are playing the semi-final round at Montreal.

The St. Catharines club, which lost out in the Mann Cup finals on the Pacific Coast last year, took their series with Brampton four games to one. They were not pressed tonight and led 11-2 at half-time. They held the Excelsiors scoreless for nearly forty minutes of actual play.

RAIDERS REPELLED BY HEAVY BARRAGE

were shot down on Monday by Lewis guns on the Sussex coast. Six times up to tonight great squadrons of bombers and fighters swept toward London: six times, said the Air Ministry, they were beaten back—"intercepted and broken up by our fighters."

DOVER COAST SHELLED

These repeated thrusts were supported by German artillery, which shelled the Dover coast heavily from across the channel.

All along the coastal areas—southeast and southwest and over Wales as well—the day had been noisy with a series of sharp, desperate engagements in the clouds.

But, despite the magnitude and persistence of the assault, certain British military circles said it appeared certain the time for an attempt at invasion had passed for this year, and that the main theatre of the battle for Britain would be transferred to Africa.

They added, it is quite possible the Germans already have taken over from Italy the direction of operations in North Africa, and the Nazis likely have moved troops into Italy to support the Fascist columns.

WINTER BATTLEGROUND

They suggested Egypt may be the great winter battleground, with the British bases at Mersa Matruh and Alexandria the likely first objectives of a joint German-Italian push. If it comes, these sources added, it will be "rough going" for the Axis.

Early Wednesday, Nazi aircraft operating singly, made several brief raids over the south and east coasts. They dropped a few bombs at isolated points in the southwest of England, South Wales and Essex.

One German bomber crashed in flames in Suffolk after a battle with Spitfires. Before it was shot down the bomber dropped explosives on a southeastern town. One burst of bullets pierced the roof of a newspaper office and wounded a proof-reader. There were few casualties and little damage.

Prom dawn to dusk five air raid warnings kept Londoners in an almost continuous state of alarm.

THREE MORNING ALERTS

Three alarms were sounded in the metropolis in the morning, but the raiders failed to show over the central part of the city.

The roar of the invading planes was audible at times, but always to the accompaniment of severe anti-aircraft fire. During the second daylight attack four bombs fell on homes in Southeastern London. Damage in the district seemed to be extensive, but no casualties were reported in other areas.

Shortly after noon the raiders returned, but were dispersed. A fifth attempt on London came later in the day. No bombs fell on Central London during the day.

UNKNOWN TENNIS PLAYERS VICTORS

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 2 (AP)—With all the giant-killing going on in the Pacific Coast tennis championships, it is as well, perhaps, that Bobby Riggs of Chicago, and Frank Kovacs, of Oakland, seeded Nov. 1 and 2, are taking a rest today.

A couple of unknowns flashed over the Berkeley Tennis Club courts and one of them, Harold Wagner, of San Francisco State College, downed Welby Van Horn, of Los Angeles, ranked fourth nationally, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

Another fifth-round upset saw W. C. Choy, of China, top-ranked among foreign entries, fall before Nick Carter, of San Francisco, 7-5, 7-5.

BOXLA SET BACK

KAMLOOPS, Oct. 2 (AP)—The second game of the British Columbia intermediate lacrosse series between Pitt Meadows Wild Ducks and Kamloops Klippers, scheduled for tonight, was set back until tomorrow night. No reason for the change was given.

Pitt Meadows won the first of the best-of-three series here last Monday, 17-7.

Play-by-Play Description

Here's a play-by-play description of the first game of the world series between Detroit Tigers (American League) and the Cincinnati Reds (National League) staged yesterday at Crosley Field. The Tigers won by a 7-2 score.

FIRST INNING

Tigers—(Bartell up). Bartell worked the count to two and two and then went down swinging. (McCosky up). McCosky lifted a high fly to Ripple in short left. (Gehring up). Gehring looked at three of Derringer's curves, lifted a foul into the left field stands and then grounded out. Derringer to F. McCormick.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Reds—(Werber up). Werber slapped the first pitch directly at Higgins and was thrown out. (McCosky up). After taking a count of two strikes, M. McCormick sent a liner just over York's head that was good for two bases when the ball rolled up against the railing along the right field foul line. (Goodman up). Goodman hit a change of pace ball to Higgins and was thrown out. McCormick holding second. (F. McCormick up). F. McCormick took one strike and then drove the ball on a direct line to centre field, and McCosky made a spectacular catch by jumping into the air with his back almost against the wall.

SECOND INNING

Tigers—(Greenberg up). Greenberg smashed the first pitch into the left field corner, but was held out to base by Ripple's magnificent throw to Myers. (York up). York singled into short right centre and Greenberg started for third, but was forced to slide back to second base by Goodman's return throw. (Campbell up). Campbell had a sacrifice bunt down the third base line but was safe at first when Werber's throw pulled McCormick off the bag and the bases were filled. (Higgins up). Higgins singled into centre scoring Greenberg and York, and sending Campbell to second. (Sullivan up). Sullivan walked again filling the bases. (Whitely Moore up). Whitely Moore went into action in the Reds' bull pen. (Newsom up).

ECHO—A TALE OR UNREQUITED LOVE

Mark Twain was fond of writing of his remarkable acquaintance with echoes.

One he knew, if anybody uttered a word, talked back for a quarter of an hour; another spoke only German; another—

Mark Twain should have counted ten and then decided not to have his little joke by jumping on a lady when she was down.

For that is the story of Echo—a tale of deception, of love unrequited, of death by grief.

The word Echo commemorates the nymph who, while Jupiter induced his high jinks and low pranks, kept Juno occupied with unceasing conversation, thus giving the faithless spouse, free and undetected play.

When Juno eventually learned of the way she had been tricked, she changed Jupiter's abettor into an echo—that is, "a being with no control over his tongue, is neither able to speak before anybody else has spoken nor be silent when somebody else has spoken."

Addresses First Liberal Meeting

Speaking at the first meeting of the season of the Ward Five Liberal Association, Mrs. A. C. Ross last night warned the audience that it should be on its guard against subversive activities and rumors that might tend to unfavorably influence the efficient prosecution of the war.

Giving examples of such activities, Mrs. Ross mentioned baseless rumors that had to do with the Red Cross and attitudes taken by the people that were too readily depressive. In addition, Mrs. Ross mentioned that she believed the editorial opinions, as expressed in a local newspaper, should not be permitted.

Mrs. Ross was introduced to the audience by E. M. Whyte, secretary of the association.

Other business at the meeting dealt with the decision by the members to confine all meetings for the year to purely social gatherings, with business discussed only at specially-called meetings.

R. V. Jenain, vice-president, presided at the affair.

I'LL WAIT FOR YOU

By MARGARET GORMAN NICHOLS
(Copyright, 1940, by Margaret Gorman Nichols)

CHAPTER XXXVIII

Luncheon on the terrace beneath the striped umbrella was a gay affair. Even Edwina's account of her decision to sell the house and give away the library and valuable furniture and pictures was gay and gave no hint of events which had led up to her decision. Yet all the while she spoke she was conscious that Dick listened with a divided mind and when Mary brought out the dessert she was intensely curious to know what had brought him hurrying from New York.

They lingered over cigarettes and when Norman snuffed out his, the last, in the glass ash tray, Dick said: "I don't want to interfere with your work, Edwina, your good deed, but business was very good today. Nature brought me and I'd like a few words with you alone. You don't mind, Norman?"

"Not at all. I'll get back to packing the books."

Edwina said: "If it has to do with me and my career, I'd like you to man to stay. He knows my affairs as well as I do."

"It has nothing to do with you or Norman."

When Norman left, Edwina turned to Dick, her eyes uneasy. "What is it all about, you mean? It is about me, isn't it? What have I done? I hope I haven't murdered somebody in my sleep."

"Stop worrying. You haven't done anything. I simply want to ask you a few questions, and it probably isn't at all necessary to add that this is strictly confidential. Something has happened here in Newton which made me see red, drop everything and get here as fast as I could."

Learning forward, he clasped his hands on the edge of the table and asked: "Edwina, how well do you know Alan Harding these days? You spoke of him when you were in New York and I gathered you had seen him this summer. I didn't arrive this morning. I arrived last night and stayed at a hotel in town. This that I have to do here is one of the nastiest jobs an attorney has ever had to tackle."

Edwina did not know why she was on guard against Dick. She sat back in the chair away from the protection of the umbrella and shielded her eyes from the sun with her hand. Disjointed thoughts and questions revolved wildly round and round in her mind.

"Please explain, Dick," she said quietly.

"I'll try. Yesterday I received a letter written in pencil and written obviously by an illiterate person. But to go back . . . Some years before I went to New York, I was attorney for John Hartley here. You must know him. Edwina. He used to own the old hardware store down on Center Street. Everybody knew him."

"Of course I knew him. I went there with my father when I was a child. He was an old man then. And he's still living?"

"Living, yes, but blind. He sold the store, but he still lives in rooms above it with an old colored servant. It was the colored servant who wrote me. I learned last night when I saw Mr. Hartley . . . Alan Harding is the old man's attorney now and Alan Harding, Newton's promising and highly respected young lawyer, has been cheating Mr. Hartley in connection with rent collection and investments for more than a year. The old man got suspicious recently—he's still shrewd—and began checking up. He found that some of his old tenants—he has large real estate holdings—had moved, that Alan had rented, in places to new tenants, increased the rents and was pocketing the increases. We call that embezzlement."

"It means . . ."

"Jail, disgrace, the end of him as a lawyer. And the filthy business is up to me."

"And Mr. Hartley . . ."

"Oh, the old man is terribly broken up about it. Cried last night. Oh, lord, it was pitiful! But he's going to press charges. Wants Alan exposed. The old man is angry and hurt, and he can be tough. Trusting Alan, he turned everything over to him and paid him fairly for his trouble . . ."

Jail, disgrace, the end of him as a lawyer. She felt a little sick—as you feel when you see a dog run down . . .

"Dick said: 'I let my New York address with Mr. Hartley when I went to New York and told him if he ever needed me to let me know. You remember him, Edwina. He had the reputation of being a kind old miser.'"

"Not yet. I dread this business, Edwina, but I asked for it when I told the old man to let me know if he ever needed me."

"She felt curiously rigid—as if she couldn't move. 'But where do I come in, Dick? Why did you want to see me?'"

"Because I could tell you the whole thing and ask you a few questions and trust you not to talk outside. Of course the lid will blow off and everybody will know about it. 'Alan Harding, embezzler! Can't you see it? But tell me what Edwina, but I asked for it when I told the old man to let me know if he ever needed me.'"

NOT HE

A couple of colours were chatting in the bar after the reunion dinner. Said one: "How's Hemingway of the 80th Foot getting on?"

"Oh, he's getting on fine."

"And Cartwright of the 25th?"

"Oh, he's very well."

"By the way, how's your sister?"

"Oh, she's gone off to Blackpool with gout."

"Good gosh, man—not Gout of the 17th?"

CHILDREN TO AID VICTIMS

School Pupils Donate $1,323.74 — Mayor's Fund Stands at $13,298.02

Victoria school children donated $1,323.74 to aid young victims of Nazi bombings in the British Isles. Mayor Andrew McGavin revealed yesterday. He indicated that additional contributions were expected today. The hundreds of envelopes containing silver and coppers were counted under supervision of D. A. MacDonald, city comptroller and treasurer.

Up to yesterday morning the sum of $13,298.02 had been received for the Mayor's fund in aid of bombing victims. The amount donated yesterday represented $208 from the City Hall staff, $45.18 from a Kiwanis Club luncheon meeting on Tuesday and sums from the general public. Promises of $2,000 more have been received.

Queen City Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a tea in the Y.W.C.A. from 3 to 5 o'clock, on October 24, in aid of the fund.

CALL GOES TO B.C. DRAFTEES

Letters Mailed to Youths in Province—Training Begins Oct. 9

VANCOUVER, Oct. 2 (CP).—Approximately 2,200 letters were mailed here today from the office of C. G. Pennock, registrar for British Columbia and the Yukon, calling young men throughout the province for thirty days' military training beginning October 9.

Each letter will contain, in addition to the call to service, traveling vouchers and meal vouchers to provide for the men until they reach their camps. The men will train at Gordon Head, near Victoria, and at Vernon.

Mr. Pennock said that investigation was being made of a small number of youths who have changed their addresses without notifying the proper authorities, or who registered under incorrect addresses.

Letters to these youths, he said, have been returned undelivered. Under the national registration regulations, all persons changing their address after registration are required to notify the director of national registration at Ottawa.

CALLED TO THE COLORS

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Oct. 2 (CP).—While British males between eighteen and twenty-two years old were called up for immediate military service in a proclamation issued by the Government last night. A conscription act passed in June made men between eighteen and thirty-six liable for service.

EXPRESSING THANKS
The Government's statement said:
"The Government recognize the keen disappointment that will be felt by parents who had hoped to be able to send their children overseas under the Government scheme and they express their warm thanks to every many people in the Dominions and in the United States who have so generously offered hospitality to children from vulnerable areas in their country.
"They are sure, however, that our friends and kindfolk overseas will be the first to appreciate that the Government's decision is taken solely out of consideration for the best interests of the children themselves."

CAUSES OF ANAEMIA IN CHILDREN

When children are underweight and undernourished, the most frequent cause might be poverty. When the family is large and the income low, it is not surprising that many of these children will be anaemic—have thin blood. However, careful investigation shows that many of the children of wealthy parents are also anaemic, so that more than poverty causes anaemia in children. Dr. Anne E. Somerford, in The British Journal of Children's Diseases, reports on 201 children attending the Outpatient Department of the Royal Manchester Children's Hospital during 1938. The children were undernourished, appeared anaemic, but had no organic disease. She found that the greater number of ill-nourished families. 3. Some psychological—mental or emotional—influence. This is seen in anxious and hyper-sensitive children, the offspring of nervous, high-strung mothers. We are all familiar with the household where the youngster is allowed to stay up late by simply coaxing his parents for just a little more time to play or read before he goes to sleep. This same youngster will likely try to choose his own food, eating what he likes and leaving what he dislikes. These two factors—not getting enough rest and avoiding the more nutritious food—cause anaemia, whether the family is poor, middle-class, or well-to-do.

Strange as it may seem, investigators have found that the nervous, easily upset, less able to take it—children with anaemia belong to the wealthy class, due to the fact that their parents "over-protect" and over-indulge them. It can thus be seen that in anaemia in children, after making sure that no organic condition is causing the anaemia, treatment is directed not only toward a nourishing diet, but the correction of bad health habits particularly as to rest and sleep.
